Index

affirmative action 6
analytical variables 31 annual data 35–6
anti-discrimination laws 6
Australia
employment change 3, 71, 83
employment level 3
employment protection 73
high wage increases 73
low earnings inequality 73
men’s employment 5
payroll/consumption taxes 73
public employment 73
unemployment benefit 73, 84
women’s employment 5
Austria
childcare provision 151, 152, 210, 211
children and employment rate 222
civilian government employment 149
employment change 3, 71, 83
employment levels 3
extended leave 153
family policies 214
left cabinet incumbency 148
maternity leave 150, 212
men’s employment 5, 198
payroll/consumption taxes 73
public employment 73
public sector employment 213
state benefits 154
unemployment benefit 73, 84
women’s employment 5, 154, 198, 199
women’s working hours 247
autocorrelation 44
Durbin’s M test 44
average effect of treatment on the treated 297 average treatment effect 296 bad employment performance 69 baseline bias 297–8
Belgium
childcare provision 151, 152, 210, 211
children and employment rate 222
civilian government employment 149
employment change 3, 71, 83
employment levels 3
employment protection 73
extended leave 153
family policies 214
high wage increases 73
left cabinet incumbency 148
low earnings inequality 73
maternity leave 150, 212
men’s employment 5, 198
payroll/consumption taxes 73
public employment 73
public sector employment 213
state benefits 154
unemployment benefit 73, 84
women’s employment 5, 154, 198, 199
women’s working hours 247
between-country variation 41 see also individual countries and parameters Boolean analysis 1
breadwinner state 229–35
part-time employment 235–41
British Household Panel Survey 227
Canada
childcare provision 151, 152, 210, 211
children and employment rate 222
civilian government employment 149
employment change 3, 71, 83
employment levels 3
Canada – Continued
  employment protection 73
  extended leave 153
  family policies 214
  high wage increases 73
  left cabinet incumbency 148
  low earnings inequality 73
  maternity leave 150, 212
  men's employment 5, 198
  payroll/consumption taxes 73
  public sector employment 213
  state benefits 154
  women's employment 5, 154, 198, 199
  case studies 14
  causal complexity 95, 120 causal conditions 72–4
    fuzzy-set scores vs raw values 73
  causal configurations 67 causal effects 169
    political regimes 290–313
  causal necessity 150, 160 causal pathways 14, 82
  causal relations 161–3, 169
  causal sufficiency 9, 10, 150, 160
  family policies 198–202
  childcare provision 5, 92, 142, 151, 152, 204, 210, 211
  and women's educational attainment 203
  and women's employment 142–4, 200
  see also individual countries
  children, and employment rate 222
  civilian government employment 149 clearly conforming cases 82 clearly not conforming cases 82 Cobb-Douglas economy 291 coefficient of determination 13
  comparative analysis 35 comparative employment performance 2–6 fuzzy-set analysis 67–90
  compliers average causal effects (CACE) 20, 149, 156 estimation of 177–9
  women's employment 164–6
  conceptual map 267
  conditional mean independence 296–7 consistency scores 13, 76, 79 consumption taxes 72, 86, 88 coordinated market economies 267, 283–4 counterfactual cases 77 country dummies 208, 209 covariates 299
  coverage score 13, 79–80, 82
    raw coverage 79
    unique coverage 79–80
  cross-sectional analysis 48–57 cultural factors in women’s employment 114–19 cumulative indices 41 cumulative left cabinet incumbency 138, 148, 151, 152, 155, 158, 160, 163, 174 day care see childcare provision Denmark
    childcare provision 151, 152, 210, 211
    children and employment rate 222
    civilian government employment 149
    early-exit rate 274
    early-exit regimes 268
    employment change 3, 71, 83
    employment levels 3
    employment protection 73
    exit pathways 279
    extended leave 153
    family policies 214
    high wage increases 73
    left cabinet incumbency 148
    low earnings inequality 73
    maternity leave 150, 212
    men's employment 5, 198, 269
    payroll/consumption taxes 73
    public employment 73
    public sector employment 213
    state benefits 154
    unemployment benefit 73, 84
    women’s employment 5, 154, 198, 199, 271
deterministic relationships 8 detrending 36
Durbin’s M test 44

early-exit rate 272–4
ten 273, 274
women 274, 275
early-exit regimes 22, 260–89
comparative analysis 262–8 partnership (mediation) 266–7, 268 production (push) 261, 262, 281–5 protection (pull) 261, 264, 280–1 earnings inequality 86 economic growth 32
economic outcomes 31
economic structure, and women’s employment 94 educational attainment of women 201–2, 203
employment change 3, 71
by causal configuration 83, 84 cross-country variation 71–4 fuzzy-set scores vs raw values 71
low-end private sector services 70 poor performance 86
employment population ratio 230
employment protection regulations 42, 72, 88
private sector consumer services 50–1 and replacement rate 51, 56 employment rate 2–6, 32 decline in 268–72
effect of political regime 305–9 low-wage sector 38–41
men 5, 198, 269
and presence of children 222
private sector consumer services 42–61
women see women’s employment encompassing comparison 267 estimand 297
estimators 301–5
European Community Household Panel 227
European Employment Strategy 224, 246

European Union
Directive 97/81/EC 233
Part-Time Directive 246
exit pathways 279
extended leave 153

family policies 4–5, 102–7, 139–46, 214
causal sufficiency 198–202
and women’s employment 20, 91–134, 196–220
see also individual countries
female friendliness 135 Finland
childcare provision 151, 152, 210, 211
children and employment rate 222
civilian government employment 149
employment change 3, 71, 83
employment levels 3
employment protection 73
extended leave 153
family policies 214
high wage increases 73
left cabinet incumbency 148
low earnings inequality 73
maternity leave 150, 212
men’s employment 5, 198
payroll/consumption taxes 73
public employment 73
public sector employment 213
state benefits 154
unemployment benefit 73, 84
women’s employment 5, 154, 198, 199
women’s working hours 247
first differencing 36
Fisher test for nonstationarity 39, 41 fixed unit effects 46, 209 France
childcare provision 102–3, 151, 152, 210, 211
children and employment rate 222
civilian government employment 149
France – Continued

Comité du Travail Féminin 108, 122

cultural factors 114–15
dénatalité 114
dépopulation 114
early-exit rate 274
early-exit regimes 268
economic factors 107–8
employment change 3, 71, 83
employment levels 3
exit pathways 279
extended leave 153
family policies 214
family policy 102–4
high wage increases 73
labor market policies 108–10
left cabinet incumbency 148
loi Roudy 109
maternity leave 102, 150, 212
men’s employment 5, 198, 269
Ministere des Droits de la Femme 122 Mouvement Démocratique Féminin 108
parental care leave 103, 121
part-time employment 99
public employment 73
public sector employment 213
single salary allowance 102
state benefits 154
unemployment benefit 73, 84
women’s employment 5, 97, 98, 99, 107–8, 154, 198, 199, 271
women’s working hours 247
work and family values 101
free choice 115
full-time work for women 98, 99 fuzzy-set qualitative comparative analysis 9, 12, 18, 20, 67–90 advantages of 67–8
goodness-of-fit tests 160, 161, 176–7 membership scores 173–4 outcome 69–71
women’s employment 156–63
gender employment gap 221–2, 223 gender equality 136, 141 gendered job creation 136, 138 gendered roles 117, 140
German Socio-Economic Panel 227
Germany
childcare provision 151, 152, 210, 211
children and employment rate 222
civilian government employment 149
early-exit rate 274
early-exit regimes 268
employment change 3, 71, 83
employment levels 3
employment population ratio 230
employment protection 73
exit pathways 279
extended leave 153
family policies 214
high wage increases 73
left cabinet incumbency 148
low earnings inequality 73
maternity leave 150, 212
men’s employment 5, 198, 269
payroll/consumption taxes 73
public employment 73
public sector employment 213
state benefits 154
unemployment benefit 73, 84
women’s employment 5, 154, 198, 199, 221–59, 271
women’s labor market status 236
women’s working hours 247
globalization 309–10
global variables 31
golden handshakes 282
goodness-of-fit tests 160, 161, 176–7, 179–87
Greece
children and employment rate 222
women’s working hours 247
heteroskedasticity 43, 49 ideals of care 94
identifying assumptions 296 institutional complementarity 265 institutionalist approach 264 institutional variables 33, 34 institutions 31
instrumental variables 303–4 intention-to-treat analysis 153, 155–6

Ireland
childcare provision 151, 152, 210, 211
children and employment rate 222
civilian government employment 149
early-exit rate 274
early-exit regimes 268
employment change 3, 71, 83
employment levels 3
exit pathways 279
extended leave 153
family policies 214
left cabinet incumbency 148
maternity leave 150, 212
men's employment 5, 198, 269
public sector employment 213
state benefits 154
women's employment 5, 154, 198, 199, 271
women's working hours 247

Italy
childcare provision 151, 152, 210, 211
children and employment rate 222
civilian government employment 149
early-exit rate 274
early-exit regimes 268
employment change 3, 71, 83
employment levels 3
employment protection 73
exit pathways 279
extended leave 153
family policies 214
high wage increases 73
left cabinet incumbency 148
low earnings inequality 72
maternity leave 150, 212
men's employment 5, 198, 269
payroll/consumption taxes 73
public employment 73
public sector employment 213
state benefits 154
unemployment benefit 73, 84
women's employment 5, 154, 198, 199, 271
women's working hours 247

Japan
early-exit rate 274
early-exit regimes 260–89
employment change 3, 71, 83
employment levels 3
employment protection 73
exit pathways 279
low earnings inequality 73
men's employment 5, 269
partial exit model 284
payroll/consumption taxes 73
public employment 73
women's employment 5, 271

labor force growth 291–4 labor market institutions 4, 29–66
labor market policies 108–13
labor market rigidities 4 labor market status of women 236, 238–40 labor share 294
last in-first out rules 282
left cabinet incumbency 148
left governance 148, 163, 164 high levels 167
impact on policy 159–61
low levels 165
liberal market economies 266, 267, 282 lock-in effects 34
low earnings inequality 72
low-end wages 4
low-wage sector employment 38–41
autoregression 40
cross-sectional and time variance components 40 main variables 39
nonstationarity 41
Index

macrocomparative analysis 6 macro-comparison 1–2
macro-level variables 30–8
manipulability 299–300
market outcomes 46
matching 301–3
maternity leave 139, 140, 144–5, 150, 204, 212
and women’s educational attainment 203
and women’s employment 200
see also individual countries
membership scores for fuzzy-set analysis 173–4
men
early-exit rate 273, 274
employment 5, 198, 269
method of agreement 16
method of difference 15
methodology 6–18
Mill, John Stuart
method of agreement 16
method of difference 15
motherhood
and employment 22
lone mothers 112–13
reinforcement of role 117
see also women’s employment multicollinearity 54
multiple pathways 68
nearly always sufficient condition 10, 11 necessary condition 16
necessity 9, 10
Netherlands
Adjustment of Hours Act 112
Breed Platform 116
childcare provision 104–6, 113, 151, 152, 210, 211
children and employment rate 222
civilian government employment 149
cultural factors 115–19
early-exit rate 274
early-exit regimes 268
Emancipatiekommissie 116, 122
employment change 3, 71, 83
employment levels 3
employment population ratio 230
employment protection 73
Equal Treatment Act 111
exit pathways 279
extended leave 153
family policies 104–7, 214
high wage increases 73
labor market policies 110–13
left cabinet incumbency 148
low earnings inequality 73
maternity leave 102, 106, 150, 212
men’s employment 5, 198, 269
parental sharing 107
part-time clause 232
part-time employment 99
payroll/consumption taxes 73
public employment 73
public sector employment 213
single mothers 112–13
state benefits 154
Stimulation Measure on Childcare 105
unemployment benefit 73, 84
Wassenaar agreement 232 welfare restructuring 111 welfare system 104
women’s employment 5, 97, 98, 99, 154, 198, 199, 221–59, 271
women’s labor market status 236
women’s working hours 247
Work and Care Act (2001) 121
work and family values 101
new institutionalism 290
New Zealand
employment change 3
employment levels 3
men’s employment 5
women’s employment 5
non-independence bias 300–1 nonstationarity 38–9, 41, 44, 46
Nordic countries see Denmark;
Finland; Norway; Sweden
Norway
childcare provision 151, 152, 210, 211
Index 321

children and employment rate 222

civilian government employment 149

employment change 3, 71, 83

employment levels 3

employment protection 73

extended leave 153

family policies 214

high wage increases 73

left cabinet incumbency 148

low earnings inequality 73

maternity leave 150, 212

men’s employment 5, 198

payroll/consumption taxes 73

public employment 73

public sector employment 213

state benefits 154

unemployment benefit 73, 84

women’s employment 5, 154, 198, 199

omitted variable bias 86 ordinal comparison 14, 263, 285

OSA Labor Supply Panel 227

panel data 29, 63–4

parental care leave 5, 103, 121, 144, 145–6

see also maternity leave

parental sharing 107

partial exit model 284

partnership (mediation) regimes 266–7, 268

part-time employment 6

breadwinner determinants 235–41

as coping strategy 241–6

women 98, 99, 100, 223–4, 226

pay equality 42

payroll taxes 72, 86, 88

pension schemes 264–5

public-private mix 265

period-demeaning 36

policy variables 31, 32, 34 political economic variables 38–42

employment regulation 42

low-wage sector employment 38–41

pay equality 42

reservation wage 41–2

political regimes

effect on employment 305–9 and per capital income 306

pooled regression 7–9, 18

limitations of 8–9

see also regression analysis

Portugal

children and employment rate 222

men’s employment 5

women’s employment 5

women’s working hours 247

post-treatment bias 299–300 potential exposability 299 potentially conforming cases 82

Prais-Winston transformation 46 pre-school childcare see childcare provision principal components analysis 204 principal factor analysis 204

private sector consumer services 42–61

annual variation 47, 62

cross-sectional analysis 48–57

employment protection regulations 50–1, 56

long-time changes 48, 55

low-end, employment rate 70

pooled analysis 42–8, 57–9

replacement rate 43, 45, 56, 59, 60, 61

process tracing 14, 95

production (push) regimes 261, 262, 265–6, 268, 281–5 productivity, and wage growth 293 protection (pull) regimes 261, 264, 265, 266, 268, 280–1 public childcare see childcare provision

public sector employment 6, 72, 73, 88, 204

expansion of 137–46

women 94, 137–9, 162, 200, 213

and women’s educational attainment 203

see also individual countries
Index

qualitative comparative analysis 1, 7, 9–13, 196 crisp-set 9
  fuzzy-set 9, 12, 18, 20, 67–90
  limitations 12

ratchet effects 34
raw coverage 79
regression analysis 196–220 bivariate 205–8
  multivariate 208–17
see also pooled regression relative risk ratio 229 remainders 77
replacement rate 43, 59, 60, 61
  and employment regulations 51, 56 panel models 45
  scores 59
reservation wage 41–2

school scheduling 92
selection bias 23
self-selection bias 298
single mothers 100–1, 112–13
single salary allowance 102
small-N analysis 1, 7, 13–18 social care 135
social democratic governance 139–41 social policy 93
solution sets 77–8
Spain
  children and employment rate 222
  employment change 3
  employment levels 3
  men's employment 5
  women's employment 5
  women's working hours 247
stable unit treatment value 300–1
state benefits 154
structural variables 31
subsidiarity 96
sufficient condition 16
Sweden
  childcare provision 140, 151, 152, 210, 211
children and employment rate 222
civilian government employment 149
early-exit rate 274
early-exit regimes 268
employment change 3, 71, 83
employment levels 3
employment protection 73
exit pathways 279
extended leave 153
family policies 214
high wage increases 73
left cabinet incumbency 148
low earnings inequality 73
maternity leave 150, 212
men's employment 5, 198, 269
payroll/consumption taxes 73
public employment 73
public sector employment 213
state benefits 154
unemployment benefit 73, 84
women's employment 5, 154, 198, 199
women's working hours 247
Switzerland
  employment change 3
  employment levels 3
  men's employment 5
  women's employment 5
taxation policies 6
  and women's employment 93–4 tendential relationships 8
The OECD Jobs Study 4 threshold effects 34
time series 36
time-series regression 1 transitional labor market 224 truth tables 74–6

UK
  childcare provision 151, 152, 210, 211
children and employment rate 222
civilian government employment 149
Index

early-exit rate 274
early-exit regimes 268
employment change 3, 71, 83
employment levels 3
employment population ratio 230
employment protection 73
exit pathways 279
extended leave 153
family policies 214
high wage increases 73
Job Release Scheme 280
left cabinet incumbency 148
low earnings inequality 73
maternity leave 150, 212
men’s employment 5, 198, 269
payroll/consumption taxes 73
public sector employment 213
state benefits 154
unemployment benefit 73, 84
women’s employment 5, 154, 198, 199, 271
women’s labor market status 236
women’s working hours 247
Working Hours Adjustment Act 235 unemployment benefits 73, 84, 88 unemployment rate 32
unique coverage 79–80
unit homogeneity 295–6
unobservables, selection on 304–5 USA
care provision 151, 152, 210, 211
children and employment rate 222
civilian government employment 149
early-exit rate 274
early-exit regimes 260–89
employment change 3, 71, 83
employment levels 3
employment protection 73
exit pathways 279
extended leave 153
family policies 214
high wage increases 73
left cabinet incumbency 148
low earnings inequality 73
maternity leave 150, 212
men’s employment 5, 198, 269
payroll/consumption taxes 73
public employment 73
public sector employment 213
state benefits 154
unemployment benefit 73, 84
women’s employment 5, 154, 198, 199, 271
vector space 74
voluntarist bargaining systems 267 wage growth 72, 86
and productivity 293
wage levels 4
women 93–4
welfare systems 93, 104
see also family policies
Why We Need a Welfare State 135
women
care role 22, 221
educational attainment 201–2, 203, 216 employment preferences 201, 246–52 labor market status 236, 238–40 marginalization of 224–5 public sector jobs 6
wage levels 93–4
working hours 247
women’s employment 5, 20, 136, 141–6, 271
CACE analysis 164–6
causal relations 161–3, 200
care provision 142–4, 200
cross-country comparisons 154
cultural factors 114–19
and economic structure 94 and educational attainment 216 explanatory model of 120 factors shaping 92–5
family policies affecting 20, 91–134, 196–220 full-time 98, 99
women’s employment – Continued
fuzzy-set analysis 156–63
maternity leave 200
mothers see mothers
part-time 98, 99, 100, 223–4, 226 patterns of 94, 197–8, 221–59 with pre-school children 142 public sector 94, 137–9, 162, 200

single mothers 100–1, 112–13
taxation policies 93–4
see also individual countries
work
and family values 101
importance of 117–18
work–family conflicts 135, 226