Most of the contributions to this volume were originally presented in draft versions to a workshop at the Centre for Development, Copenhagen, 11–13 June 1998. The workshop entitled ‘Globalization, Changing Paradigms and Development Options in the Third World: Cuba and Vietnam’, assembled some twenty researchers from Cuba, Vietnam, Europe and the United States. We are most grateful for inputs and comments received by the participants and for the logistic support given to the workshop by the Centre for Development Research.
