British Imperialism in the Nineteenth Century

Each volume in the 'Problems in Focus' series is designed to make available to students important new work on key historical problems and periods that they encounter in their courses. Each volume is devoted to a central topic or theme, and the most important aspects of this are dealt with by specially commissioned studies from scholars in the relevant field. The editorial Introduction reviews the problem or period as a whole, and each chapter provides an assessment of the particular aspect, pointing out the areas of development and controversy, and indicating where conclusions can be drawn or where further work is necessary. An annotated bibliography serves as a guide to further reading.

The editor gratefully acknowledges financial assistance received from the Pantyfedwen Fund of Saint David’s University College for the preparation of the manuscript for publication. He also wishes to thank Sarah Mahaffy, Vanessa Peerless and Judy Marshall of Macmillan for their constant encouragement, help and advice during the production of the volume.

The editor and publisher wish to thank Hodder & Stoughton Educational for permission to reproduce the map on p. 64, depicting India on the eve of the Indian mutiny. This was originally published in Victorian Imperialism by C. C. Eldridge. The map on p. 127, Africa in 1914, is reproduced with the permission of Cambridge University Press, and first appeared in Africa Since 1800 by R. Oliver and A. Atmore.
